ANELLO

Do you think that the best effect is achieved when classic meets modern? Just for you, we have created the Anello collection, where steel is combined with exotic iroko wood. It is furniture with character, for those who are not afraid to live outside the box.

The Anello collection

We designed the Anello collection for people who like a combination of a classic furniture concept with elements of modern design. To highlight the concept, we have used a classic stripe with a modern plain, which adds style and elegance to the collection. The cushions and foam we use in the seats have a material structure that ensures maximum water drainage and air circulation. Thanks to that, the foam does not absorb water, thus reducing the drying time and allowing you to quickly use the furniture immediately after the weather changes.
